THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON

Built in 1850 and licensed in 1853, our rich and fascinating history spans more than 160 years.

The hotel was named after Field Marshal Arthur Wellesley (aka the Duke of Wellington). Wellesley famously led the British forces to defeat Napoleon in the Battle of Waterloo in 1815 and went on to become British Prime Minister in 1828.

The Duke has had many colourful licensees, including football hero Brian ‘the Whale’ Roberts. The saying “Have an ale with the Whale” resonates strongly with many Melbournians and is just one of the many pieces of history that have contributed to The Duke’s iconic reputation.
